Employee Spotlight

Saw Day

At Franklin Park Alamo Heights, we are always looking for those staff members that will go above and beyond for our residents. The ones that see a problem and say, "how can I help." Saw Day is that staff member. When the rains hit San Antonio and prevented one of our cooks from making it into work, Saw seized the opportunity to help. As you stepped off the elevator onto the second floor that morning, the aroma of toast and bacon filled the air. He had whipped up a wonderful breakfast and made sure that we were taken care of even though that was not "in his job description."

Saw has worked at FPAH for over a year. Born in Burma and raised in Thailand, he came to Texas by way of Boston. One of his seven brothers asked him to come San Antonio and we have been blessed by that invitation.

Saw got his start in the hospitality industry working for Marriott Hotel, where he got most of his food education. While in high school though, Saw enjoyed the chance to be a journalist for a radio station.

When Saw isn't at work, you might find him reading sci-fi novels, playing guitar or volunteering at church as a youth leader. We value that type of can-do attitude and are so thankful to have a member of our staff with that type of dedication to the residents here at FPAH.

If you find yourself in the dining room being waited on by Saw, please let him know how thankful we are that he is part of the Franklin Park family.
